

I do a lot of driving and the fact that I can now receive up to date weather and traffic for major cities from XM radio is fantastic. Your not driving and playing with the radio trying to find a local station. I have three XM radios and think this is the best thing going. I believe they have every right to expand their business as any other business would. Thank you